the video?

Listen again and fill in the blanks.

It's springtime in Alaska and this mother grizzly (0) bear is teaching her young ones how to fish so they can feed themselves. It's not like the fish just (1) jump out of the water and into your mouth! Well, sometimes they do, but it's all a matter of being in the right place at the time. At this time of year, (2) rivers are teeming with fish. And the mother grizzly is traveling to the exact same spot where her own mother taught her how to catch salmon. (3) Mum has finally arrived at her teaching spot. She spreads her rear legs for balance and studies the current. When she gets the opportunity, she'll (4) grab a fish as it clears the water. Or, pin it underwater with her paw. Mum's trying to teach, but her cubs aren't (5) watching. When Mum finally makes a picture-perfect grab, her cubs notice what she's doing. Probably, because lunch has arrived.

Tick T for true, F for false.
