Lunar New Year, or Tet, is the biggest and most important festival in Vietnam. Tet often takes place between late January and early February.

A great deal of excitement still builds up well before Tet. Streets are decorated with beautiful lights and red banners. People are busy buying gifts, cleaning and decorating their houses and cooking traditional foods. Homes are often decorated with plants and flowers at this time. Peach blossom is traditional at Tet in the North while apricot blossom is traditional in the South. One of Tet's most special foods is Chung Cake, which is made of sticky rice, green beans and fatty pork.

On the days of Tet, people visit other family members or friends and they exchange New Year's wishes. Children are very excited to receive their "lucky money" inside red envelopes. Many people go to pagodas to pray for a happy new year for themselves and their families. Tet is really a time of fun and festivals throughout the country.
